From the President - Gerry Pfirsch

I hope that you were able to get your camping season off to a good start. I would ask you to keep our family in Canada in mind as they are still in lockdown. Many of our family are having challenges in getting the vaccine and the US Canadian Border remains closed. We must keep them in our prayers and be thankful for our blessing of having access to the vaccine as easily as we have had to get our shots here in the US.

We had our Spring Fling campout here in Colorado and I would like to report that the policy we set in place for COVID worked in the rapid changing times we have here. Keep in mind that the policy can change to fit the conditions at the time of the meeting. We were able to tailor the policy to fit the requirements of the CDC, the State, and the County as well as the town. I also found that people within FCRV were more willing to protect the people around them and were willing to mask up as a courtesy rather than it be a point of contention. My hat is off to all that were at the function. This proved to me that it is possible and prudent to have the adaptability in the policy. Great job Colorado.

I would like to say to all of you we would love to see you at Campvention, and I would like to urge you to join us in Elkhorn. I feel that we will have a good Campvention, and I would love to see each of you there. Get your registration in and I look forward to seeing you there.

The trustees have been working on many items and things have been moving ahead. I would like to thank Sue Carlson for her work on awards. I would also like to thank the committee that worked with Sue making decisions on the awards. So, to each of you I say thank you for a job well done. Your hard work is what makes FCRV work. To all of you I say THANK YOU!

I would like to report that the Trustees have adopted the budget for the coming year. They are looking at issues surrounding membership loss. Ways to turn loss into gain and begin the preparation for the process of new members coming onto the board.

The preparation for Campvention is in full swing and is moving ahead with great speed. As Beth likes to say she has ordered the concrete for the schedule at Campvention. With the rising numbers of vaccines getting into arms I see us having a safe Campvention this year. I would like to urge you to get your registration in so that we have a camping spot for you.

See you at Campvention.

WANDER WISCONSIN

By, Shari Weber, Wander Wisconsin Chairperson

The Wander Wisconsin Team has decided campvention is a go. We may need to cut back on some expenses, but we are planning to have fun and provide fellowship. It appears our Canadian friends and camping family will not be able to come. However, if we are lucky enough to have the border open all Canadian members will be welcomed at campvention even if not pre-registered.

Wisconsin vaccines as of May 17th are at 46% of population is fully vaccinated with 42% receiving one dose. Wisconsin is 12th in the nation in getting vaccines into arms. A check of the CDC website shows the U.S. at 60% for at least one dose of the vaccine. This puts us in good shape to have a fun and safe campvention.

Karen's Embroidery will be at campvention to provide badges and other FCRV logo items for direct purchase. Karen & Dale are creating a pin commemorating Wander Wisconsin. Those will be available for purchase in the commercial area at campvention.

The team wants to acknowledge Marshall Creations, the source for the campvention worker shirts for the gift of baseball caps to each team member with the campvention logo. They are much appreciated. If you see the shirt or cap and would like one they are available on Marshall Creations website. During June and July use Camp25 (case sensitive) to receive a 25% discount. The website is accessible from fcrv.org home page, scroll to the bottom. Health issues prevent Marshall Creations from attending campvention.

If you have not yet registered for campvention, please feel free to do so. There is still time. The June 1st deadline was to be parked with your state/province. You will still be parked near to all your FCRV family and may be next to someone you haven't gotten to know yet. This will give you an opportunity to become more acquainted. The grounds are very condensed with nothing further than a few minutes of slow walking. You can even come to campvention without pre-registering, there will be a spot for you!

See you in Elkhorn Wisconsin very soon!

To make things run smoothly please come into the Walworth Fair Ground using the Rotary Way entrance off of S. Market St. Gates open at 7:00 am on the 10th. There is a staging area across from the building to disconnect your tow vehicle, if you have one. Continue on Rotary Way the gate to check in. Someone will escort you to your campsite. If you need to use the dump station upon arrival it is located just past the check in gate. You will be provided with information about the honey wagon at registration. Please do not hesitate to ask your parking guide for any direction that you may need. We are here to help make this an easy process. After you get parked and settled in don't forget to head over to registration. Registration opens at 9:00 am.

WELCOME FIRST TIMERS......

....to our 61st Campvention, located at Walworth County Fairgrounds, Elkhorn, Wisconsin. Dates are July 11-16, 2021, but you are welcomed to early days, July 9, 10 (there is a fee for each early day, payable at registration). Are you ready for some fun, seminars, and activities? Delbert Powell and I, Donna, along with Matt and Marla Mantia will be there to welcome you and your families. We are having a get-acquainted meeting on Monday, July 12th from 10-11am in the Seminar building. We want to welcome you and have some of our trustees there to meet and greet, answer questions. We will try to provide information for around the campvention as well as around Elkhorn, too. Campvention is what we each make it. Most seminars and activities are scheduled for different times, different days; so come, enjoy, have fun! Oh, by the way, there will be a BBQ festival on Thursday and Friday at the Fairgrounds (more details once we all get there); sure sounds like so much fun for a week! Have you ever been to a Murder Mystery Play? Well, you have a chance to go to one! We are ready to welcome all First Timers! Let's have a fun week, meeting new people but leaving as family and friends! On Friday, July 16th, we are having another meeting 9-10am, for your feedback from your week at Campvention! SEE ALL AT 'WANDER WISCONSIN' CAMPVENTION, ELKHORN, WIS-CONSIN!!

We will be at registration when you come to Campvention; so please stop by and meet us. We want to meet you! Donna Powell, Chairperson

"WANDER WISCONSIN" MARKETPLACE

By Duane & Ruth Keegan, Chairpersons, Craft & Project sales

Final words of advice---assuming many of you have delayed registering for Marketplace craft sales until the last moment to make sure Campvention 2021 will take place. It is going to happen, because it has never happened in Wisconsin before. You will find Elkhorn and surrounding area is a great town to visit.

Now is NOT the time to wait any longer to register as the deadline is June 15, 2021. If you individually, or your Chapter have craft projects or other interesting items to sell, this is your opportunity. Don't let it slip by.

The day for Marketplace sales will be Thursday July 15 in the A.M. Setup starts at 8:30. Sale for 'handicap' campers begins at 9:30, with everyone else at 10:00 A.M. until 12:00. The exact location on the campground will be listed in your program book. The registration form is printed in Camping Today, so follow the instructions and register now, again REGISTER NOW!! Any questions? Our contact info is listed on the form.

CAMPVENTION 2021 ADULT AND FAMILY ACTIVITIES

by Brian Fuller and Marybeth Huyge, Chairpersons

The Adult and Family Activities Committee has a number of fun activities planned for the week at Elkhorn. Note the name change from "Adult Activities" to "Adult and Family Activities." Many of this year's activities are open to and designed to be enjoyed by people of all ages.

For those who like to move and groove, there will be two Country Line Dancing sessions (Tues., Thurs.) and a Hustle (Single-Step Swing) session (Mon.). For those who prefer more sedentary activities, there will be Bingo (Mon.), a Euchre tournament (Tues.), Wisconsin Trivia (Thurs.), Logo Game (Thurs.), and Giant Jenga (Fri.).

On Wednesday morning, there will be Family Games. Not to be confused with Monday's Family Fun Day, Family Games are a series of easy and fun games of skill, similar to carnival midway games, that all ages can play. For example, trying to land a thrown object inside a circle, or trying to get a ringer with a thrown hoop. You can come at any time during the activity; it takes about 10-15 minutes to complete all of the games. We've been playing Family Games at Michigan campouts for years, and it's always a highlight.

ADULT GAMES

By Kathy Collier & Rhonda O'Neal, chairpersons

We will be hosting adult games consisting of horseshoes, washer toss and ladder golf. Due to COVID, participants may want to wear gloves and/or bring their own horseshoes, washers and golf ball bolo, but they must meet regulations for fairness. Facemasks will at least be recommended if not required depending on FCRV and/or local, state and federal guidelines/requirements. To participate in these games, one must be 18+. Each game will have ladies, men and doubles consisting of any two people 18+. If you don't have a double, we can match you up at the games. You do not need to be a state or province winner, nor a "pro". Please sign up at central registration on Saturday or Sunday. If you are not on site yet, sign up the day of by showing up, but please be on time. Have a great Campvention!

SPECTACULAR STATES/PROVINCES

by Dave and Linda Hennie, Door Prize Chairmen

We know there are many spectacular features about your state/province, so why not brag a little about your state's/province's products and specialties by donating a State/Province Basket as a door prize at this year's Campvention, Wander Wisconsin. You could combine donations from all areas of your state/province to create a State/Province Basket with goodies and items from your state/province. Don't overlook your sports teams and arenas for donations. Have fun in creating your Spectacular State/ Province Basket. You can contact us at Rpalace1170@aol.com to let us know if your state/province will donate a basket. You can contact us at Rpalace1170@aol.com to let us know if your state/province will donate a basket.

RED HAT / HARD HAT / NO HAT

by Ivalee Vanderhoff

The planning team wanted something different - SO - Bring your Red Hat, Bring your Hard Hat, or don't wear a Hat!!! We will have a different gathering for a brunch for all together. Some surprises so come and see. Make your plans for Thursday morning gathering with lots of visiting and meeting folks from all over. See you in July.

KEEP THESE POINTERS IN MIND FOR RIBFEST

In a first for FCRV, we will be sharing a venue with another entity during Campvention. While FCRV has use of the Walworth County Fairgrounds early in the week of July 11-16, the annual Elkhorn Ribfest will join us on the grounds Thursday and Friday of that week. In working out the details of these two events, organizers agreed that FCRV members will have access to the Ribfest, free of charge, on Thursday and Friday. If you wish to camp on the fairgrounds on Saturday and Sunday you will need to pay the camping fee of $70 per day, which will include admission to the festival. This fee must be paid at the fair office by Friday, July 15. Ribfest attendees will NOT have access to the FCRV event venue

So here are some things to keep in mind for the safety and benefit of all our members:

- There will be a tent set up for FCRV members to sit under and enjoy the music of Ribfest. BRING YOUR OWN CHAIRS.
- In Wisconsin, anyone 18 or older is an adult. HOWEVER, you must be 21 to legally consume alcohol, and yes, there is a Beer tent at Ribfest. Keep this in mind when your older teenagers to go to the Ribfest event.
- Younger FCRV children must be accompanied by an adult if they attend Ribfest.
 WEAR YOUR FCRV ID BADGES! Pin them on the back of young children's T-shirts so they cannot remove them. This will help FCRV security identify non-FCRV members if people should get "lost" during these two events.
- "The Friendliest People in the World" is the FCRV motto, and we want to help spread it among those who encounter our members for the first time. Feel free to explain what our Campvention is, and who FCRV is...the nation's largest member-owned international camping club, where strangers become friends, and friends become family. If someone expresses a genuine interest in joining FCRV, there will be application forms in the FCRV on-grounds office. Or ask around many members carry a few brochures in their campers.
- COVID -19: as we all know, these are changing times, even week to week. As was explained earlier this year, FCRV will comply with whatever COVID-19 recommendations are in place at the time of Campvention for Wisconsin, Walworth County, and from the CDC. Bring some masks along just in case. There will be hand sanitizing stations on the fairgrounds. Sadly, FCRV has lost members to this virus. We want to work together to keep all our members safe and healthy.

We hope everyone has a wonderful time at Campvention and at Ribfest!

BOATING SAFETY

By Joe Boswell, National DASAT Director

Ok, you have arrived at your campsite, set up camp and now what are you going to do for the rest of your time. In your adventures wondering around the campground and or the local area, you have decided to go for a boat ride. Great! Some of you might have brought your own boat along for adventure.

Now, before you board that boat learn the safety rules for boating. No matter how large or small your boat may be, you need to be prepared. Here are some very basics that everyone needs to know before you put that boat, kayak, or canoe in the water. Just keep in mind the larger the boat, the larger the list of safety equipment that is required to be on your vessel at all times. Take time to consult with the Coast Guard in your local areas to make sure you meet or exceed the safety requirements

Let us review some of the safety equipment. You will need personal floatation devices: commonly referred to as life jackets or life preservers for every person who boards your boat. Going out in a rowboat, kayak or canoe, you may want to take along an extra set of ores so if you lose one you have extras to help you get back to shore. In some areas, a helmet is necessary if you are out in a Kayak, and or maybe a canoe-this will protect your head if you happened to flip over, especially in rocky shallow water.

A floating safety rescue ring attached to a long rope is needed and or a sling for those who have larger boats. This way you can throw this line to someone who is in the water and needs some assistance. Rope of various lengths is essential, because you need it to tie up you boat so it will not float away. The rope can be a useful item to help pull someone out of the water who has fallen in. Rope can also help to secure things within your boat so they do not move as you move about in the water. Larger boats need a VHF radio to contact the Coast Guard if additional assistance is necessary.

A radio, for listen pleasure, and or to obtain news-especially to hear the changes in water conditions or for the weather is a basic essential and always helpful. It is important that you take the time to register your boat with the authorities, this way they can identify the boat and locate possible owners if the boat is stolen or found adrift in the water without you or its' passengers. If your boat has a motor of any capacity, than a fire extinguisher is a necessary item to have on board the vessel. Signal flares should be stored in a waterproof container and available when needed in an emergency. They can signal your location as a way to receive help with a water rescue. Some type of noisemaker is beneficial so have a whistle or horn on board within easy reach. Lights, the bigger the boat the more you need, so make sure your lights are in working order. If your boat, for example is a rowboat, a flashlight will work for this purpose.

Store in a dry place, maps of your local boating area and learn the buoy markings for safe boating. As with driving a car, learn the buoy signs so you do not end up in a dangerous place or put others at risk during your boating adventure. In a few instances, you may find it necessary to have a small assortment of tools on board your vessel. They are always useful if you need to make a repair while boating.

Now that you have reviewed your list of safety equipment, you are ready to go, hold on a minute. Do you know where you are going? Before you depart in that boat is it best to check the weather conditions as it can change at a moment notice. Review your charts and note the hazards that may exist in your boating area. Give a responsible person who is staying on land, your scheduled departure and arrival time back at the dock, so they know if you do not return within a reasonable period to start rescue efforts. This is a good safety measure so others are aware that you are on the water. Water conditions can change at a moment's notice, or you could experience a medical emergency, or experience boat problems-a leak for example. If someone is keeping watch, and expecting you back at a certain time and you do not return, they can notify authorities for assistance in attempting to locate you. Did you pack that first aid kit; remember you may have gone fishing; now you have stabbed yourself with that fishing hook. Ouch, now your first aid kit has become very useful.

It is always a good idea if you are going to be on the water for several hours to take along some snacks, and fresh water to drink. Remember that alcohol does not belong on a boat, as it will inhabit you from making good quality decisions. Sun tan lotion is necessary for bright sunny days to protect your skin. All of these things mentioned above are important for safe boating. This is just a simple overview. If you own a boat, consider taking the Coast Guards safety boating classes and get your boat inspected so that it meets or exceed all safety regulations for your given geographical area. If in doubt contact the local Coast Guard authorities and they will help you become an experience boater in no time. The more you know about safe boating the safer you will be on the water. Safe boating everyone.

KEEP IN TOUCH! FCRV NEEDS YOUR EMAIL ADDRESS There's nothing better at the end of the day than sitting down in my favorite easy chair the newspaper. Although today, the way I read the newspaper is on my tablet rather than in a and reading the newspaper. Although today, the way I read the newspaper is on my tablet rather than in a paper document I hold in my hands. "The times they are a changin'..." No truer words were ever spoken - especially today.

FCRV has upgraded the way it sends most communications. Don't you think you rather ironic that an organization whose roots are grounded in conservation and environmental awareness used to consume so much paper with correspondence, newsletters, ballots, and reports? We do. In order to alleviate some of our consumerism we have changed the way we do these things. Rather than kill trees on a monthly basis with our newsletter, Camping Today, we send it out by e-mail. We also save a large portion of our operating budget by doing it this way. Additionally, we send out our election notices, state reports for those who hold an office in this organization, field staff updates, and indeed a bulk of our communications, electronically. That is why it is so important for FCRV to have your e-mail address. You're missing out if you haven't given it to us. And let's face it, most of our members who are snowbirds or travel a lot have electronic versions of just about all the paperwork that needs to be done, and that requires an email address. Banking, credit cards, monthly bills, even correspondence with their grandkids, friends, and family is all done electronically these days. So FCRV requests that those of you who have not yet done so, please provide us with your e-mail address. We do not give out our members' e-mail information anyone who asks. We do not give email addresses to our Commercial members. We do not distribute e-mail addresses to vendors. Nor do we compromise your privacy in any other way.

So many FCRV members are willing to provide us with phone numbers, credit card information to pay dues over the phone, and other personal information, which has never been hacked through FCRV. We have strong encryption and firewalls in place to protect your privacy, and we are quite pleased with our track record when it comes to protecting your data and information. So you do not need to fear loss of privacy in providing us with your e-mail address.

Please send us your e-mail address today! Send it to FCRVNAT@VERIZON.NET. Tell us your name, your FCRV ID number if you know it, and let us know that this is the e-mail you want us to use when reaching out to you regarding FCRV information. Don't miss out on anything else. Keep in touch with us.

CALLING ALL PHOTOGRAPHERS!!

Whether you use expensive camera equipment or simply your phone we want your pictures! Whether you have training or enjoy photography as a hobby, we want your pictures! Our new website editor wants and needs pictures of our chapter, state/provincial, and regional campouts. He says pictures of children and furry camping friends are particularly fun. Use this link to share your pictures https://fcrv.org/picture-submit/. This goes directly to Carl. There are a few questions about your picture to answer when you submit your picture. As they say a picture is worth 1,000 words, so go out and snap some pictures.

There isn't an official campvention photographer, so individuals taking pictures and sharing them with us is welcomed.

Mystery synopsis It is almost time for the International CSI Association conference in the lovely city of Anonville. The who's who of the forensic world is already trickling into the Grande Resort & Hotel. The crème de la crème of forensic investigators will present their exciting and innovative forensic science research projects to their colleagues, followed by the traditional social hour where a delectable buffet-style dinner will be served. The forensic investigators from around the globe will relax, enjoy good food and catch up on the past year's research findings. They'll be sure to discuss their big cases and trade interesting stories from the crime scenes they've investigated over the past year. It's well known that some of these investigators have a turbulent history and have not always gotten along harmoniously. Social media outlets have been peppered with posts of ill intent, and scandals are brewing at the surface. However, the event hosts are in good spirits about the conference and believe the CSI personnel will remain professional and the conference will go off without a hitch. They may be dreaming. Many think there may be enough fuel added to the fire for a public eruption by putting these people in the same room. You've got your itinerary and are set to arrive at the Grande Resort & Hotel tomorrow morning. This is where your story begins.

MISS FCRV TEEN QUEEN

MACEY!!

Hey y'all!

I guess this month I want to talk about things that happen for a reason. In the moment something could seem like the worst thing ever. But after some time has passed, and you get over the initial shock, you will start to see why it had to happen. God has a plan and a reason for every event in your life.

I know what has happened in my life in the past few months was the right decision because there was no better place for me to have been, than spending time with my family on Easter Sunday.

Also, this past week was my last FFA banquet. It still hasn't completely sunk in yet that it's almost time to move on from the organization that I have been devoted to for the past four years. But I know that it's time to move on because I've learned as much as I can. Also, it's time for the organization to shape a new member, just like it did me.

My path might not be the same as the next person, but my path is the path I am meant to be on because God made it just for me. Go out and conjure today knowing that you're on the right path because the path you are on was made just for you. I can't wait till our paths cross at the next camp out!

I will graduate high school on Saturday, May 29th. I have already started college & I'm working but looking forward to Campvention! If anyone would like to send me a card, they can at 1050 W CR 450 N Brownstown Indiana 47220".

Macev

The May campout at Spring Mill was definitely one to remember. One highlight of the weekend was when Jessica, Angie, Dena, James, Scotty, and I all went hiking to explore caves. On our adventure we went to two caves and the village. Not everyone knew exactly what they were getting themselves into when they trusted me to lead the hike, but I think it's safe to say everyone had fun!

Another highlight was on Saturday night when my mom, Angie, Dena, Brenda, James, and I played a new version of Uno taught by Brenda and James. (Also Scotty subbed in when needed.) In this version of Uno you played with teams so if you're stuck instead of drawing a card you can ask your partner for help. It was a lot of fun until you end up drawing 16 cards!

After a long pandemic, getting to enjoy the company of my camping family was very exciting. I hope that everyone in attendance can agree!

GOLF CART RENTAL

Starting with the 2021 Campvention, FCRV will no longer be the middle person for golf cart rentals.

Contact this company for rental: The information is: Brown's Service Wisconsin Golf, Inc. 459 Madison Street Walworth, WI 53184 Phone 262-394-5505 brownswisgolf@gmail.com

If you wish, you may have your golf cart delivered to the grounds the same time the carts that FCRV requests are to be delivered. Any issues you have with the cart, YOU will deal with the golf cart rental company yourself.

INDUSTRY VETS LAUNCH TECH-FOCUSED DIGITAL RV MAGAZINE

By: RVBusiness

The ability to perform regular maintenance, unforeseen repairs and reasonable upgrades is integral to every motorized hobby or lifestyle. It's even more critical when that vehicle carries as many electronic, HVAC, plumbing and entertainment systems as a brick-and-mortar home.

Delivering that information — in an easy-to-read and fully illustrated manner — is the concept behind RV Enthusiast, a new monthly digital publication created specifically for hands-on RVers that will be sent to more than one million current and future RV owners.

Owned and staffed by some of the most recognized and experienced RV journalists in North America, RV Enthusiast was created to fill the need for accurate technical advice to help enthusiasts keep their RVs in top condition.

"With existing RV magazines and online sources gravitating more to lifestyle coverage, we realized there is a huge demand for detailed and factual technical information," said Bob Livingston, formerly a longtime technical writer and publisher of Trailer Life (TL) and MotorHome (MH) magazines who will serve as publisher of the brand-new publication.

"Couple that with the surge in RV sales due to the coronavirus and the difficulty to schedule appointments at times with booked-up dealer service departments, and we saw a need to provide current and future owners with a resource for knowledge to help make reasonable repairs and understand the inner workings of RVs," Livingston added.

The RV Enthusiast staff includes Editor Bruce Hampson, formerly top editor at MH and longtime editor of RVBusiness, one of the nation's premier RV trade journals; Technical Director Chris Dougherty, an RVIA/RVDA certified technician and consultant to the RV industry who most recently was technical editor for both TL and MH magazines; Technical Editor Chris Hemer, a former writer and tech editor of TL and MH and owner of a boutique marketing firm that specialized in the automotive and RV segments; and Advertising Director Sue Seidlitz, well-known in the RV industry for her long tenure in ad sales for TL and MH. Jim Mac, former director of marketing for Keystone RV, will be managing the social media platforms.

"Editorially, we own a combined experience of more than 80 years in the RV industry — much of it on the tech side," said Hampson. "There's never been a magazine in this industry to offer readers that level of expertise."

While RV Enthusiast will focus on the nuts-andbolts side of RV ownership — including tow and dinghy vehicles — the publication also will provide coverage of new RVs and products, helpful reviews, projects, industry news, feature articles and tips from the pros.

"We want to provide readers with a well-rounded editorial package," said Dougherty. "But more than anything, we want to entertain readers while informing and educating them on how things work and how to maintain, repair and improve their RVs. The difference between a great trip and an interrupted vacation is knowing your equipment."

Through unique arrangements with certain RV manufacturers and dealers, RV Enthusiast will initially be sent free of charge to more than one million current and future RV owners. It also will be promoted on various social media sites. The first issue will be released in February 2021.

"RV Enthusiast will not only bring unparalleled knowledge and expertise to the RV publishing space, but a synergistic approach that encompasses all aspects of ownership — presented in a conversational, fun and sometime irreverent style," said Hemer.

RVWA, 'ROLLIN' ON TV' PARTNER FOR 'WOMEN IN RVING' SERIES

By: RVBusiness Published on: May 7, 2021

"Rollin' On TV" (ROTV), the longtime RV lifestyle program, and the RV Women's Alliance (RVWA) have partnered to produce a four-part TV feature titled, 'Women In RVing," which is scheduled to begin airing in late June nationwide on all the program's TV stations and sports networks as well as its streaming outlets.

The idea for the series came about a couple of months ago, rather informally, while talking to RVWA President Susan Carpenter during one of the shoots ROTV was producing on the groups' "Drab To Fab" trailer remodeling project.

The purpose of this series is to bring awareness of all the job opportunities available nationwide in the RV industry – and not just in Indiana, but RV dealerships all across the country as well as openings in the RV insurance and warranty fields. The key thing here is that all these job opportunities should be gender neutral.

In this multi-week series, ROTV visits four different women and finds out what drew them to the RV industry, learns about their career paths and how they feel about working in what was, at one time, considered a male-dominated industry.

About RVWA

The RV Women's Alliance is an organization dedicated to fostering the next generation of female RV Industry leaders and RV WOMEN'S ALLIANCE innovators. Their mission is to unite, inspire, recruit, and develop a more diverse workforce by supporting women with education, resource.

About Rollin' On TV

Rollin' On TV is now celebrating its 11th year of broadcast television, and has a total household reach of 40-million homes on both cable and satellite TV and is viewed by over 350,000 homes each week. Episodes can also be seen streaming on ROKU, Amazon Fire, YouTube, Vimeo, our website as well as on each TV station's streaming service.

RV/MH HALL OF FAME & MUSEUM DISPLAYING SYLVANSPORT GO

By: RVBusiness Published on: May 19, 2021

SylvanSport, the Brevard, N.C.-based maker of trailers and camping gear, announced that company officials are "honored" to add their GO camping trailer to the Go RVing Hall at the RV/MH Hall of Fame and Museum in Elkhart, Ind.

The RV Industry Association (RVIA) spends millions each year on its Go RVing campaign to highlight the RV lifestyle. Go RVing is so significant that it has its own hall within the RV/MH Hall of Fame and Museum.

The SylvanSport GO, which is made in Brevard, NC, will be featured in this hall as part of a 6-month exhibit.

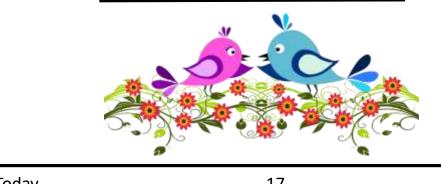

When the SylvanSport GO was introduced in 2008, it was "truly the creator of what has become a new category of adventure vehicles that blend outdoor activity with comfortable camping convenience," according to a release. The GO can carry all kinds of gear like kayaks, canoes, boards, bikes and much more. When this ultra-lightweight trailer converts to camping mode, it features multiple options for a comfortable night's sleep, ranging from two individual full-size sleeping areas to a king-size-plus bed, offering welcome recovery from the day's outdoor pursuits. The GO has garnered a passionate community of adventure campers across the country and has earned multiple recognitions and awards, including an International Design Excellence Award (IDEA) Gold award, and being called the "Coolest. Camper. Ever." by National Geographic Adventure.

SylvanSport Founder & CEO Tom Dempsey personally delivered the GO to the museum, along with VP of Operations Patrick Kennedy and Global Sourcing Manager John Stall.

"We are delighted to show off our GO camper in the Go RVing Hall," said Dempsey. "From design and engineering to sourcing and manufacturing, each GO is the culmination of the hard work and dedication of our team. Over the past 12 years, the GO has proven itself as a comfy, capable, and elegant platform for outdoor adventure and we are thrilled to share its quality and innovation with enthusiastic RVers who visit the museum."

"The purpose of the Go RVing Hall is to showcase what modern RVing and camping has to offer to customers of all types," said Jose Rodriguez, administrative manager for the RV/MH Heritage Foundation. "The SylvanSport GO is a wonderful reflection of the versatile nature of today's RV world. We fully anticipate excited and inquisitive reactions from our visitors."

WILMA PLUMMER LONGTIME ACTIVE MEMBER

Wilma Plummer, widow of Don Plummer & mother of Linda Hennie, passed away on May 21st after celebrating her 92nd birthday on April 26th. Wilma & Don began their NCHA/FCRV 'career' after joining in February, 1960. What a 'career' they had, serving in many positions in Ohio and at the national level! They formed several chapters, including the Day-Hi-O Trailseekers, Jolly Jets, and Cool Campers in Ohio where they were members. They were also members of the Kentucky Colonel Chapter in Kentucky. They were responsible for the Travalong Program to travel as a group, primarily after campven-
